Zomato partners with eat2eat to create a seamless table reservation experience at selected Marriott International's restaurants for users

Earlier today eat2eat and Zomato announced a wide-ranging partnership to create greater flexibility for diners making reservations at Marriott International's restaurants, across the Middle East. Diners can now access a large selection of restaurants and lounges at Marriott International hotels, in real time, across the Zomato network and will be powered by the eat2eat table management software - MaRc, at restaurants that support both the partners.

Speaking on the partnership, Vikram Aggarwal, CEO, eat2eat said, "We are delighted to be partnering with Zomato - one of the most innovative restaurant search and discovery platform globally; and we look forward to offering our clients and customers greater choices, as they make their dining plans."

"We have spent the last decade building for better convenience and seamless dining experiences for all users. We are delighted to partner with eat2eat to provide greater convenience, real-time access and faster confirmation while reserving tables across an array of premium restaurants at the Marriott International hotels listed on our platform, from around the world," added Gaurav Gupta, COO, Zomato.
